AUTHENTIC, CHIC AND DISCREET

The Union Club offers a fabulously relaxed, bohemian backdrop for your special day.

Our 300 year-old Georgian town house is decorated with French street lights, avant-garde and antique furniture and eclectic private art collection.

We provide acclaimed, unpretentious modern British cuisine, all hosted by a delightful team of experienced staff. A venue like no other.

CLUB HISTORY

Our Georgian townhouse was built in 1736 by William Frith, a local carpenter, who erected six houses, all to the same pattern. In those days it was mostly fields and woodland all the way to Highgate.

Today, 50 Greek Street is the last remaining of the original six houses and is a listed historical building of considerable merit.

The Union Club was founded in 1993 by Pete Cross and Carolyn Dawson, who rescued the dilapidated Georgian townhouse after a fire.

What began as a small private members' club with handwritten paperwork and just 50 members has grown into a Soho institution, expanding into the adjacent building in 2015.

It now offers dining, meeting spaces, an art collection, and events in its historic setting.

TESTIMONIALS

“This venue checked every box in our wish list and was the perfect place for our wedding. We would highly recommend it to anyone wanting an intimate, beautiful space to celebrate their wedding day.”

Alice & Alex

“Our friends said you were so helpful in the morning and getting everything set up. The idea to have the reception out on the terrace was inspired and I think it just made the day so thank you for that. The food was amazing, the booze was flowing and everyone commented on your staff and the venue generally.”

Kelly & Rebecca

Tom and I and all our guests couldn't have loved it more. It's was absolutely epic and I think it's going to take me the best part of this week to recover!

Clare & Tom

“Congratulations to you and the whole Union Club crew for putting on a tremendous event on Saturday. We loved being with you and felt very special being looked after by all the lovely team.”

GROUND FLOOR BAR

DRINKS RECEPTION

A Drinks Reception is the perfect way to bridge the gap between your Ceremony and your Wedding Dinner, and a perfect time for the bride & groom to have their pictures taken around the Club and the streets of Soho.

After you've tied the knot we will welcome you and your guests into our Ground Floor Bar for a glass of Cremen or Champagne where there is plenty of room to mingle, relax, and catch up with your guests.

ROOF TERRACE

THE ROOF TERRACE

"Thank you both for such a wonderful day. People were really blown away by the Union Club and all of you guys and with the delicious food too. Sincere thanks to both of you and the rest of the team.

Gaby & Eoin

"What an absolute triumph our reception at the Union Club was. From the moment we entered the club after getting off the bus, the day ran seamlessly. We could not fault anything or anyone at the club. From the champagne on arrival, the fabulous food and the fantastically unobtrusive service the day flowed into night along with the champagne with an amazing time had by all our guests.

Gary & MJ

"Our venue, the Union Club, is a really cool members-only club in Soho on Greek Street that is also legally and emotionally equipped for weddings. I kept saying to my friends that it's like if Soho House was designed by Miss Havisham, but that doesn't really do it justice."

Lena Dunham & Louis Felber

"The perfect setting, perfectly arranged and so smoothly orchestrated... Thank you, thank you, thank you from us both. "

Celia and Robert

The dinner

We produce delicious, fresh and seasonal food. Our menus are uncompromising, balancing traditional cooking practices with a modern flavour profile.

Our Executive Chef Frans de Wet has done stints at West End stalwarts such as Joe Allen and Randall & Aubin and is proudly carrying on the mantle left for him by Carolyn Dawson, who led The Union Club kitchen for 29 years.

We pride ourselves on the quality of the ingredients and use trusted suppliers to bring us the best produce - all delivered daily to our front door.

In order to provide the best local and fresh produce, our menus change seasonally.

We offer a 3 course menu with the option to add a wider selection for your guests to choose from.
